

HURRYING TROOPS TO THE FRONT.

Two Hundred More Soldiers Leave This Morning to Fight the Indians at Bear Island.

FIRING CONTINUED ALL NIGHT.

General Bacon Expected to Renew the Attack This Morning, Predicted That He Will Exterminate the Indians.

THE INDIANS PLANNED A MASSACRE.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 7.—There was desultory firing all night on Bear's Island. Indian Agent Tinker is of the opinion that the Indians have been largely ret-forsaken.

Two hundred soldiers were sent to General Bacon this morning.

The only word so far received from the scene of the fighting was Gen. Bacon's small message, giving a list of the casualties yesterday, and saying that the fighting would be resumed.

The officer who left here yesterday to join Bacon stated that he would exterminate the Indians before he stopped fighting.

MASSACRE WAS PLANNED.

No Doubt that Wholesale Slaughter was the Intention of the Red Devils.

Walker, Minn., Oct. 7.—Indian Agent Sutherland, who was with Gen. Bacon at Sugar Point, gives the following account of the conflict up to the time of his leaving for supplies: When the arrest of the two fugitives had been accomplished the Indians, with a profession of friendship, showed the soldiers their tepees and called attention to their neatness and all the time stating "We good Indian." Gen. Bacon, who has had great experience with the Sioux and other savages, did not take much stock in these professions of friendship and ordered a part of his company to search the adjoining timber for any lurking savages, but none was to be seen. They must have been hidden in the thick underbrush and those unaccustomed to searching timber could easily have been deceived, for it was not ten minutes after this that the firing commenced. Had the Indians not contemplated a general massacre they would have fired on the men who were searching the timber.

RAVE BACON A KENTUCKIAN.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 7.—Gen. John M. Bacon, who is reported to have been killed at Bear Island, Minn., in the raid on the Indians, is a native of this county and a brother of Miss Sallie Bacon, of this city. He is related to Mrs. Haycraft and other prominent families of this city. Gen. Bacon enlisted in the army during the civil war as a private. He was promoted from time to time, and became a colonel on the staff of Gen. Sherman. After the war he entered the regular army, and now has the rank of brigadier general, in charge of the department, with headquarters at St. Paul.

The general was not in Santiago, as has been stated, but the Third regiment of regulars, he, now commands, was.

Gen. Bacon's first wife was Miss Lobb, of Frankfort, and his second wife was Miss Forsythe, daughter of Gen. Forsythe, U. S. A. He is a brave and courageous officer and an Indian fighter who has never let a Indian he went after get away.

The Treacherous Redskins Fled Before the Troops of General Bacon, Who Returned to the Front and Renewed the Attack This Morning.

LOTHROP, Minn., Oct. 7.—A special from Walker says that Gen. Bacon arrived there this afternoon saying that he had completely routed the Indians who fled before him. When he left Bear Island white flags were flying all along the shore.

Now that the mimic war is ended the Indians who took part in the uprising will all be punished.

MANDAMUS FILED.

Coroner Phelps Brings a Suit Against Clerk Graham.

Coroner George Phelps this afternoon filed a mandamus suit against County Clerk Charles Graham to compel him to issue a voucher for $18, which was allowed the coroner by fiscal court yesterday.

It is understood that the amount was garnished by Mr. George Rock, but the coroner claims that this has nothing to do with the clerk issuing the voucher and that he is entitled to the amount allowed him.

The case will not be tried until the approaching term of circuit court, when the question of whether the indictment is subject to attachment or garnishment will be settled. Attorney Wheeler Campbell brought the suit.

If you want Radiant Home stoves Scott Hardware Co. are headquarters for them.

The water company, contrary to expectations, has not started its big pump, owing to the fact that the steam valves are put in wrong, and new ones had to be sent for. It may be a week or two before the ones arrive.

She alleges that her horse was killed by a live wire, on North Fourth street, several days ago, which was due to the negligence of the defendants. She values her horse at $75, and the remainder of the amount asked is for injury to business.

L. A. Smith and others filed a suit in the circuit court yesterday to settle an estate. James Burns and others are the defendants.

MALICIOUS CUTTING.

This Is Charged Against Robert Willhite, a White Man.

He Is Alleged to Have Cut H. J. Lehnhard This Morning.

H. J. Lehnhard, a well known iron worker, was painfully injured by Robert Willhite, who was drunk, this morning, down about the ways. Willhite, it is said, was drunk, and assaulted the old fellow with his knife. The most painful wound was in the cheek, which was inflicted, Marshal Collins thinks, by the "jaw" of the knife. It is said that Willhite would have killed the other if he had not been prevented by outside assistance.

He was arrested by Officer Frank Harlan this morning, and committed to the lockup to await trial tomorrow morning in the police court.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

Resolutions of respect on the death of Stratton S. Chiles:

Whereas, The Great Commander of the Universe has in his infinite wisdom called from among us the soul of our comrade Stratton S. Chiles, whose death occurred at Camp Thomas, Ga., July 23, 1838, therefore be it Resolved, By company K, Third Kentucky infantry, U. S. V., that in his death this company has sustained an irreparable loss, and while we bow to the decree of Omnipotence we regret the tragedy which deprives us of the associations of our comrade.

Resolved, That the noble cause to which our comrade had devoted his young life, and his strict adherence and obedience to his duties which brought him to his untimely death has endeared him to us, and befit for him a monument more enduring than marble or bronze, and only when the scrolls of the heavens shall have been effaced from the mind, shall the faithful and dutiful remembrance of our comrade be lost to memory.

Resolved, That in his daily associations in camp with his comrades he was affable, congenial and pleasant, and it may be said of him that the sunshine of his presence cast halo of contentment around the monotony of our camp life, and made him beloved by all.

Resolved, That a page of our daily roster be set apart to commemorate his memory, and a copy of these resolutions be forwarded his family.

BOYNTON REITERATES.

The General Says Stories That There Was Purposely Inflicted Neglect in Hospitals Is False.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Gen. H. V. Boynton concluded his testimony before the War Inquiry Commission yesterday. In reply to charges formulated by Surgeon Milo B. Ward, of Kansas City, who said in a letter to the commission that the camp was without drainage; that the water was unfit to drink; that there was no proper food, and that all of the 15,000 men in the camp were suffering from intestinal diseases, Gen. Boynton said:

"Of course, in so large a camp some painful things must necessarily happen. For instance, when measles broke out, the hospitals were quite crowded. But to say there was any purposely inflicted neglect is, he declared, as false as it is possible to be."

THE BABY ACT.

If ever a newspaper in Kentucky planned the baby act, the Louisville Dispatch did so one day this week when its directors made an appeal for the sympathy of the public by stating that the merchants of Louisville were boycotting that paper.

The publishers of the Dispatch wonder that the merchants of Louisville do not patronize that paper, when its every issue is reeking with results aimed at the sound money men of that city and Kentucky. Louisville had all the daily papers it could support before the Dispatch entered the field to fill an alleged "long felt want." The Dispatch introduced at once those methods into its dealings with the public that have made Tennessee politics a stench in the nostrils of the American people. For day in and day out, week after week and month after month, the readers of the Dispatch were exhorted to patronize only those Louisville merchant-who advertised in the Dispatch, thus attempting to boycott every merchant in Louisville who refused to use its columns.

As that plan has failed to work, that sheet now says that the merchants are doing a little boycotting themselves. There is not the slightest probability that the merchants of Louisville ever dreamt of a boycott on the Dispatch, but the facts of the case are that they are simply patronizing papers of known circulation and of long established influence and are letting the Dispatch paddle its own canoe.

When the Dispatch was spurned water was served on the Courier Journal to prepare to die, that is days were numbered. But the people failed to appreciate the grand stand play and the C. J. still lives. The old Courier Journal may get a little wobbly on its politics and lose its bearings, but its publishers know how to get out an up-to-date paper of which cannot be said of the Dispatch.

The administration will recommend to congress the repeal of the grand sewer, and a commercial line of poles, kept well painted, would be a source of pride to our citizens and even the chronic grumbler would have nothing to say.

COL. CHARLES F. DICK.
The nomination of Col. Chas. F.
Dick for congress, by the republicans of the Nineteenth Ohio district, the district made famous by Joshua Giddings, Benjamin Wade and Jas.
A. Garfield, is a most deserved recognition of the services of one of the ablest and most loyal members of the republican party.

Col. Dick is at present the secretary of the republican national committee, and as such has been of inestimable service to the party, and much of the success of the late national campaign was due to his marked ability as an organizer and a leader. Col. Dick also had charge of the recent senatorial campaign of Mark Hanna, when the will of the republicans of Ohio was in danger of being defeated by a few hotters.

When the war with Spain began Colonel Dick organized a regiment from the President's home district, which was known as the "President's Own." This regiment saw service at Santiago, and Col. Dick thus was one of the few volunteer officers who has actually been under Spanish fire.

In honoring Col. Dick the republicans of Ohio honor themselves. He is not only a loyal republican, a skilful political strategist, but he is an illustration of the reserve power of the American people. He was reared in obscurity, but by sheer force of his intellect and ability he has risen to a most prominent and influential place in a great political party.

CAPT. J. E. WILLIAMSON'S NAME was added to the roll of honor, or, in other words, to the membership of the Commercial and Manufacturers' Association, last night.
This is an example worthy of repetition by other of our business men who have not as yet joined the association. It can be truthfully said that Capt. Williamson has devoted more time to the upbuilding of Paducah than any other man living. He has faithfully served as councilman under every mayor Paducah has had except two. He has spent his time and money freely in every movement that tended to upbuild the city, and now don't stand back on what he has done, but comes forward voluntarily and joins, saying that seeing the membership fee fixed at an amount that seems to mean business, and feeling that it was a move in the right direction, he wants to contribute his mite in the interest of the city he loves so well.

The men arrested were Blacksmith, Caden, Waggon, Rooco, of Co. D; Cook Wilson, of Co. C; Sergeant Joe Robb and a civilian whose name was not learned.

The men were placed in the guard house, with the exception of Sergeant Robb, who was released, as he proved that he had just stopped in while passing.

Whiskey has been furnished here for some time to the corral men and a number of soldiers of each regiment. It is considered a serious offense and will be seriously dealt with.

WILL GET HIS PENSION.

A Washington dispatch to the Chicago Record says:

The dark side of the war was ill-luminated by a little incident the other day. Jesse B. Gates, of Highwood, Ill., is a private in battery A, 4th artillery, and claims the credit of having fired the first cannon shot in the battle of Santiago. The Spaniards punished him by shooting off his upper jaw. He is just out of the hospital, has been discharged from the army and is here to make application for a pension of $15 a month.
At the pension office they placed his papers on file, but in the regular order of things will not reach them until the next century. Thinking he ought to have better attention he went to the white house and told his story to a group of newspaper men who haunted the halls of that historic mansion. While they were talking with him Secretary Alger came along Mr. Price, of the Washington Star, hailed him and said: "Mr. Secretary, here is a man who deserves your attention."

The secretary hearkened to the tale of the soldier, dived into his pocket, pulled out a card and handed it to Gates, saying: "Give that to the messenger at the door of the President's room upstairs."

Gates followed instructions and was admitted immediately to the cabinet room, where he told his story to the President and chatted pleasantly with him for half an hour or more.
In the meantime Col. Montgomery was working the telephone and sending instructions to the war department and the pension office to put through the Gates pension case promptly. In a few days he will get his money.
